With all the planning in the world there are always going to be those little things that pop up as well as those planned things that do not quite work as well as one predicted in theory. We would like to express our very sincere thank you for being kind and patient with us. We know that not everything will be perfect first time and that things will need to change on a very regular basis as we adapt and navigate this situation, we are sure that you are aware we receive almost daily updates and recommendations from the Government and adapting to these also. We would very much like to reassure you that EVERY decision made will be made with your children's safety first and foremost, this is inclusive of their well-being and educational catch-up. All the additional thought and procedures are most definitely worth it to have our wonderful children back in the building. We cannot express how overjoyed we were, as well as all the staff at hearing the building come alive again with the children's voices. It is ALL worth it—just to be able to see them again.

Thank you for trusting us and sending them back.
